

YUNEX TRAFFIC: TYPOGRAPHY

Typography is more than just words.

Jeko is the characteristic headline typeface of Yunex Traffic. Together with the body typeface Inter, it shapes Yunex Traffic's balanced and modern characteristic. Contemporary, but well-founded. Recognizable, but most importantly legible.

TYPOGRAPHY: CORPORATE FONTS

TYPOGRAPHY: BASIC RULES

You will encounter situations where you need to step outside of these styles. That's fine, but stick to these simple rules.

Here are some typography rules to abide by:

- Use Jeko or Inter as typefaces only for non editable documents.
- Maintaining legibility and clarity is always the key objective.
- As a rule of thumb, aim for no more than 15 words to a line. It becomes difficult to read.
- Use Jeko for headlines and callouts. Use Inter for smaller font sizes, as well as on longer texts of 50 words or more.
- Make sure that the text always has enough contrast with the background.
- Don't be afraid of white space. Let the typography breathe.
- Always prefer left-aligned text over center- or right-aligned text.
- Always prefer to use black colored typography. To highlight parts in a text use the CI color „Royal Blue“.
